Your path continues winding up and down rolling hillocks and alongside rocky walls leading you to the town of Portomarin, which was rebuilt on a hilltop from its original location in the River Mino's valley. This was done to escape flooding when a reservoir was constructed in 1962. The old church was moved, stone by stone, to its current location.

There are tombs of knights of the Order of St James, a stone Retablo that portrays scenes of the Miracle of the Eucharist and the Descent from the Cross. The most spectacular items are the 15th century Gothic frescos that are rare in Spain. They portray the Annunciation and include two figures that are thought to be King Juan II and Queen Maria of Aragon. This visit takes around 45 minutes and approximately is around 3kms approximately to walk.

The nuts & bolts for your adventure

Safety & well-being

Adventurous Ewe puts the safety and well-being of you, our leaders & crew and the communities we visit at the centre of all our operations, always. Your safety and well-being is our top priority.

The Camino de Santiago Trek will require preparation as the challenge is designed to take you out of your every-day comfort zone and achieve something amazing. Rest assured we have a thorough Safety Management System, in-depth risk assessments and risk management systems in place.

You're in safe hands with Adventurous Ewe.

Leaders & crew

You'll be accompanied by a professional Local Guide who's enthusiasm and knowledge knows no bounds. They're expertly trained and experienced in every field of this trek, bilingual (English and Spanish) and qualified in remote first aid. They also have a huge passion for what they do and have plenty of historical & cultural knowledge ready to share with you. They are responsible for ensuring the complete safety, well-being and enjoyment of the team whilst also retaining a flexible and fun attitude.

An Adventurous Ewe Leader will accompany groups of over 12 people and is an experienced and passionate leader as well. Leaders have been carefully selected to ensure you have the best experience with a bit of humour thrown in for good measure. Your Leader will be Remote First Aid trained too.

. The Leaders have radio and phone contact with each other, the local office and Adventurous Ewe's HQ.

Level of difficulty

The Camino de Santiago Trek is graded as 'Medium'. The trek consists of 6 consecutive days of walking. Your luggage is transferred between hotels, so you only need to take a day pack with you on the walks. The terrain and type of path will vary from paved tracks, tarmac, forest trails to gravel. The walks are not technically difficult although there are some steep ascents and descents, so a good level of fitness is required.

It's important to bear in mind that the distances walked some of the days are long and you are expected to walk 6 days in a row so there is a high chance to get blisters. We recommend to take extra care in making sure that your hiking boots are comfortable and well worn in. We advise bringing hiking boots and trail running trainers as this will allow you to alternate them at any stage to avoid blisters and pain.

Preparation is key to help you get the most enjoyment and reward from this trek. A good level of fitness, endurance and some gritty determination will help you conquer each day.

TOP TIPS

Multi Day Trekking

- Dress the part. During the day the temperatures may become quite warm so ensure you have a full brimmed hat & lightweight scarf, sunglasses, a loose long sleeved shirt (ideal) and plenty of sun screen. At night the temperatures may decrease so it's time to layer up – base layer, insulating layer and shell. Base layer t-shirt that wicks perspiration away from your skin (merino wool base layers are ideal), a mid layer that insulates you from the cold
- Train in your trekking kit including the wearing of your rucksack with weight inside and in hot weather conditions so you know your kit is both suitable, where it may chaff and is comfy
- Good sturdy hiking boots which are comfy and well worn-in together with breathable socks (ie. merino wool based). Trainers or crocs can be worn in the evenings and flipflops or sandals are always a welcome relief too
- Look after your feet. Rock tape is ideal for blister prevention. Check out the website 'Fixing your Feet' for some great tips: <https://www.fixingyourfeet.com/>
- Have two bags – a daypack for the trek with everything you need for the day (snacks, water, sun-screen, hand held fan & any medication) and your soft sided kit bag which will be transported from hotel to hotel
- Ensure you have a good head torch
- Bring some of your favourite snacks. Remove as much packaging as you can before taking it on the trek (less litter to carry)
- Bring your own water bottle, camelbak/platypus that you can refill and avoid plastic bottles. Water flavouring & electrolytes are also ideal as a thirst quencher, replenish lost salts and to add some variety to the water you drink
- Most importantly.....SMILE AND ENJOY THE ADVENTURE!
